One-Year (Part-time) Certificate Course on "Knitting Technology"

Organisation

The South India Textile Research Association (SITRA) is a premier textile research institute sponsored by the textile industry and supported by the Ministry of Textiles, Government of India. This institute has completed its 50 years of existence few years ago. Considering its industry relevant research and other activities, more than 300 textile units are members of SITRA and around 90% of them utilise one or more services of SITRA. Besides, many non-members units from all over India and overseas utilise SITRA's services.

Participants of the first batch (2009-2010) of one-year full-time certificate course on "Textile Technology for Supervisory Jobs in Spinning Mills"

The state-of-the-art instruments available at SITRA can be seen only in the best laboratories. It has a pilot spinning mill, weaving and knitting lab with latest machines. Its library has rich collection of books. It subscribes for more than 200 international and national journals.

Industry

The Indian textile industry is the second highest job provider after agriculture. This industry has been growing considerably over the years. There is a huge gap between the requirement of technical personnel for the industry and availability of technically qualified persons. This course will help the candidates to fill in this gap. Being production industry it exists for many years and will remain important for many more years to come.

Course Content

The course content has been planned using the rich experience of SITRA and suggestions from the industry. The theoretical inputs and hands-on training on hi-tech machines and technologies will help the students to face the industry from the day one after joining the job.

Course Duration

The course will commence from 1st week of August 2010 and will be completed by April 2011. The classes will be conducted at SITRA, Coimbatore.

Fees

Rs. 20,000 per participant per course to cover tuition fees and institutional amenities.

Accommodation

SITRA does not have its own hostel but there are many students' / bachelors' accommodations around SITRA. SITRA can help in arranging accommodation in those facilities for the students. The approximate cost for accommodation will be Rs. 750 per month and food and other expenses will be Rs. 2500 per month. Considering the course duration of 9 months, the expected total expenses towards lodgings and boarding for outstation candidates will be approximately Rs. 29,250 besides the tuition fees of Rs. 20,000.

Eligibility

Selection criteria will be based on the course selected.

Award of Certificate

The students will have to put in minimum 80% attendance and pass examination in all subjects, to be eligible for the award of certificate.

Enrolment

Kindly fill in the enclosed form and ensure that it reaches SITRA not later than 15th July 2010. The admission will be on first come first served basis. The candidates sponsored by the industry will be given preference.
